

We can infer from the table that every stock symbol belongs to a company, and each stock has price change. And vice versa.

It should be checked that each company has a stock symbol. Companies could be private.

